We will discuss how to use autoethnography/ autotheory/ autofiction

- to study and teach queer feminist topics in times of pandemics, wars, and other ongoing crises
 - to document grassroots activism and re-examine the idea of “personal is political”
 - to move towards more experimental, activist presentations of our theorizing
- to live through and write about complicated pasts and presents, grief and loss, faith and beliefs, silence and escape

Organizers: Olga Plakhotnik (U Greifswald/ UNDIPUS project) and Maria Mayerchyk (Rhine-Waal U of Applied Science)
